Pop-Kultur/lokal

Pop-Kultur lokal: Call for Concepts / Deadline: March 31st 2023, 12 pm

»Pop-Kultur lokal« is going into another round and this year again wants to represent some of the most interesting Berlin spaces and their local networks. We support you as organisers with your idea for an evening that focuses on music but can also be interdisciplinary or discursive.

Spread the word and let us know by 31 March 2023, 12 pm, via the application form below, which projects you would like to realise and apply for funding of €2,000 per event. The events themselves are free to attend and must be implemented in accordance with applicable hygiene regulations.

The focus is on performances by musicians based in Berlin; combinations with DJ sets or talks are possible (the protagonists must also be based in Berlin). In terms of content, it is important to ensure that female/non-binary artists make up at least 50% of the overall programme. Applicants are also requested to make the event as barrier-free as possible. Efforts should also be made to integrate people with disabilities into the line-up. Applications that reflect diversity will be given preference.

The selection of the funded events will be made by a four-member jury consisting of Michael Aniser (Off-Kultur), Anton Teichmann (Off-Kultur), Danielle Rahal (Weeeirdos) and Nadine Moser (Pop-Kultur). »Pop-Kultur lokal« will be integrated into the official festival communication and will receive financial and promotional support from the Pop-Kultur Festival.

The events are to take place between May and August 2023. Preference will be given to organisers who have not previously received funding from the Musicboard.

The application form can be found here online or as a PDF.
